Scope

Albert A. Lawrence was a Professor at the United States Coast Guard Academy in New London, Connecticut during part or all of the 1940s and 1950s. During the years 1961 to 1966 he was Dean at Maritime College. These Papers pertain exclusively to some of the years he served as a Faculty Member at the Academy, and broadly speaking may be said to refer to the Maritime Industry, especially in regard to construction, labor, and the economics of the Industry. There is also some brief insight into the admission of cadets to the maritime life, at least historically.

The Papers in this Collection consist largely of newspaper clippings, a number of reports, an occasional student report which had been submitted to him, and similar documents. There is, however, one exception, the subject titled "Admission to Cadetship", which contains several original nineteenth century documents. Evidently, the majority of the items in this Collection, except for a few publications, were arranged by Lawrence into a number of subjects for his classroom work or, perhaps, for an occasional talk before a professional group. Materials in these folders are dated principally in the 1950s though there are items for the 1940s and an occasional 1930s or 1960s, as well as some undated material but these, undoubtedly, are also for the 1950s. In virtually all cases the title which Professor Lawrence gave to his subjects have been retained. This was not possible in a very few instances basically because he himself had not named them or they were unclear. These titles or subject headings have been provided by the archivist, and are identified as such. The Collection measures two and a half cubic feet.

Contents

The Lawrence Papers are arranged alphabetically by title of folder. Because of their fragile condition, all or virtually all of the newspaper clippings have been photocopied.

* This folder, unlike the others, also contains 19th century documents, presumably acquired by Lawrence, which pertain to the governmental agency predecessor of the United States Coast Guard, and thus were interesting in providing some brief historical background. More specifically, the following documents, all dated 1877 are found.

a) Four documents on letterhead of the "U.S. Revenue Marine" and referring to the U.S. Cutter J. C. DOBIN. References are essentially to daily Exercises of Cadets during practice cruises, etc.

b) Seven "Scale of Merit" documents which list the names of seven cadets and their standing regarding duties performed, etc.

c) Telegram sent to the U.S. Treasury Department by Captain J.A. Henriques which reads "Arrived this morning - Please grant me an interview with dept." June 29, (1877).

d) Transcript – Record of daily exercises of cadets during practice cruise, made by Captain John A. Henriques on board the Revenue Cutter J.C. DOBBIN. Front page missing but presumably June 11, 1877. Last entry June 30, 1877.

e) Transcript – Record of daily exercises of cadets during practice cruise, made by Captain John A. Henriques of the Revenue Cutter J.C. DOBBIN. These entries were made while the vessel was docked in Provincetown, MA, July 1-16, 1877.

Over and above these, folder also contains a photocopy of a "Circular in Relation to Examination of Candidates for Admission to the Grade of Cadet in the Revenue Marine Service", dated November 8, 1876, as well as two copies (different formats) of Circular No. 126, dated Oct 16, 1936 issued by the U.S. Coast Guard listing "Duties And Doctrines".
