

SAVE THE DATE! Graduate Orientation Event

When? Monday, August 28, 2017

Sign in begins at 12:00

Event speakers will begin promptly at 12:30. The event concludes at 3:15.

What? Graduate student orientation - This orientation event is also a module of the mandatory first class for all graduate students, TMGT 6001. A new graduate student who does not attend (Distance learners: Please see below) may put him/herself in jeopardy of failing TMGT 6001 and having to repeat the course.

Who? All new graduate students, including students exercising the graduate license option and students new to the "Fast Track" program – see below for information about signing up for the course.

Distance learners (students taking all of their courses online), although welcomed to attend if they are able, will have the initial meeting material addressed in their online class format – see below for information about signing up for the course. Note: Non-Distance learners, having received special exemption permission to take the online section, must attend the event.

Where? The Multi-purpose Room (also referred to as Room 100) in the Maritime Academic Center, SUNY Maritime College, Bronx, NY

Why? To acquaint incoming graduate students with their new program. To meet members of Maritime College's support system who will provide information and resources to support student success and to better understand the community they are joining.
